Algiers, May 26.

THE Differences which had been for ſome Time between this Government and the Emperour of Morocco, broke out into an open Rupture laſt Month, when the Bey of Oran advanced into the Dominions of the ſaid Emperour at the Head of 2500 Turkiſh Foot, and about 25000 Mooriſh Horſe. There was a ſmall Skirmiſh between theſe Forces and thoſe of the Emperour of Morocco, in which the latter loſt about 60 Men: But it was immediately followed by a Peace.

Stockholm, June 21. The Britiſh Fleet under the Command of Sir John Norris, is come to an Anchor at the Dahlers, and the Admiral is come up hither. The States are at preſent buſy in drawing up in Form all that has been concluded among them this Seſſion, in order to paſs the ſame into a Law, as is the Cuſtom in this Country; and it is thought they may ſeparate the Beginning of next Week. Mr. Finch the Britiſh Envoy, and Mr. Jackſon the Britiſh Reſident, had Audience of the King and Queen at Carlberg on the 18th Inſtant.

From on board the Barfleur in the Road of Naples, June 28, N. S. Admiral Byng ſtaid at Palermo till the firſt Imbarkation of the Spaniſh Troops, conſiſting of about 12000 Foot and 600 Horſe, ſailed from Termini. They put to Sea on the 20th Inſtant, but the Weather being ſtormy that Day they were obliged to return into Port: On the 22d they ſailed again with a fair Wind for Barcelona; whither all the Spaniſh Troops from Sicily are to be tranſported. That Day the Admiral ſailed from Palermo for this Place. Another Imbarkation was preparing for the Remainder of the Spaniſh Troops amounting to about 5000 Men, which it was propoſed would put to Sea within 10 Days after the firſt: The Admiral left a Convoy for that Service. Tranſports were alſo provided to carry four or five Battallions of Piemonteſe to Sardinia, and the Admiral appointed them likewiſe a Convoy. They waited only for the Arrival of a Miniſter whom the Emperour is to ſend to take Poſſeſſion of that Iſland in Form, and to reſign it to the King of Sardinia's General.

Warſaw, July 3, N. S. We have Letters here which give an Account, that 4000 Muſcovites had been detached from the Troops lying about Smolensko, and ordered by Prince Menzikow to take their March through Poland, as the ſhorteſt and beſt Way to Riga, where it ſeems they are thought neceſſary to reinforce the Garriſon of that Place.

Pyrmont, July 4, O. S. His Majeſty left Herrenhauſen on the 29th paſt, and came hither. His Majeſty is in perfect Health: On the 1ſt Inſtant he began to drink the Waters of this Place, which agree very well with him. Earl Stanhope ſets out from Hanover on the 6th Inſtant for the Court of Berlin, where his Lordſhip propoſes to ſtay about Ten Days, and then to come directly hither.

Copenhagen, July 9. The Lord Carteret waits here the Return of a Meſſenger he ſent to Stockholm, upon his Daniſh Majeſty's ſigning the Treaty of Peace with Sweden. The Goſport Man of War ſailed on Saturday laſt from this Road, with a Ship with Brandy and other Proviſions under her Convoy, to join the Britiſh Fleet commanded by Sir John Norris. The King and Prince Royal of Denmark came hither on the 4th Inſtant, and returned again to Fredericksburg To-Day.
